- Gujarat Arts and Commerce College (Evening), Ahmedabad has launched a new initiative - "Startup Shaala- Learnings from Startup Entrepreneurs" with the aim of sensitizing students about entrepreneurship, wherein various startup entrepreneurs will be invited periodically to share their success stories and experiences with the students.
- In the fourth session on 22/12/23, Dr. Karnav Patel (Founder- Hashi Care and Salvo - Surgical Drapes, scrubs, aprons and gowns manufacturing Startup) who left his high paying medical corporate job as Cancer Surgeon to venture out was invited as speaker. He narrated his journey and how people initially doubted his decision of leaving such a job. By now, his conviction seem to have proven them all wrong with sales clocking almost 1.9 crores in just a short span of time. He emphasized on being an employment generator rather than seeker. By now his organisation has generated employment for 50+ people and in a small town like Vijapur. His story of transformation from one sewing machine to a high-tech factory of international standards being the only one in Gujarat, inspired the young minds to the core. The session was attended by 90 students and 13 faculties.
- The college Principal Shri Dr. Himmat Bhalodia alongwith Senior faculty and HOD of Economics Department- Dr. Bahadursinh Vaghela, specially welcomed enthusiastic participation of 90 students and appreciated collaborated efforts of SSIP & IIC Committee Convener Dr. Ijan Vaidya, Entrepreneurship Development Cell Coordinator Prof. Nikhil Rohit and the team members of these committees for making the event successful.

Joshi Mohit

The speaker of second session was a very good speaker and I learned a lot from his talks and especially from the Design Thinking Activity.
